Legume Innovation Lab Graduate Student Kelvin Kamfwa

Meet Kelvin Kamfwa, a Legume Innovation Lab-sponsored graduate student at Michigan State University. Kelvin conducts research on plant breeding and genetics research under Jim Kelly, Lead PI of the Legume Innovation Lab project Improving Genetic Yield Potential of Andean Beans with Increased Resistances to Drought and Major Foliar Diseases and Enhanced Biological Nitrogen Fixation (BNF).

!Kelvin at MSU's bean research fields (l.) and in the lab. (rt.)

Throughout the spring of 2014, an MSU film crew documented the important work Kelvin engages in every day. Link here to see a video about his work.